Art at Council Tuesday, November 14, 2023

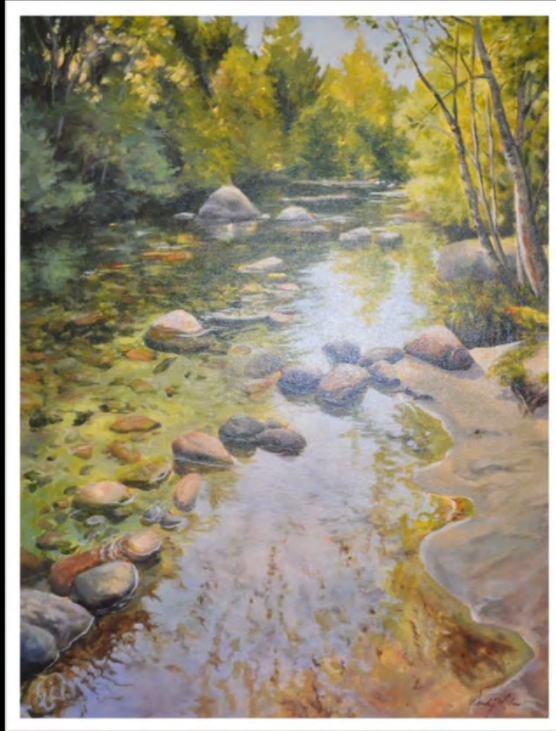

This evening we are pleased to share two artworks which were recently acquired by the City for our private collection. Each year a City Division is chosen to select artwork at the Port Moody Art Associations' annual show. This year, members and staff from Port Moody Police selected two pieces.

The first is Relaxing Wolf by Val Philbrook. This painting is based on a photograph taken by the artist while visiting the Northern Lights Wolf Centre near Golden, BC, where a rescued wolf looked very cute relaxing and sleeping.

The second piece is titled Still Creek and is by Wendy Milne. Wendy is part of a small group of artists that visits local spots to paint "plein air". This acrylic painting is inspired by an outing to Hockaday Park in Coquitlam where the artist was inspired by the different colours and shapes of the rocks, and the reflections on the water.

These two artworks will be hung at the Police Department, and we are thrilled to have these new additions to our artwork collection.
